

When Jessica walked through our doors she was scared and alone. “I knew there was no way my boyfriend would help support a baby and my parents were going to freak out. I didn’t know where else to turn.”

After the first she left with a confirmation of her pregnancy and a new determination. “After seeing the ultrasound of my precious baby I knew it didn’t matter what anyone else said. I was going through with this pregnancy. I still wasn’t sure I could raise the baby on my own, but I had months to figure that out. All I knew was that I couldn’t have an abortion - not after seeing that little heartbeat and watching her move around.”

With encouragement from our staff and a better understand of her options, Jessica sat down with her parents and talked things through. “I felt so much more prepared after talking to the counselor. I knew why I didn’t want to have an abortion and what my other options were. We even looked at some adoption information together.” She knows she still has a long road ahead of her, but she is optimistic, “I have a beautiful baby girl that I can’t imagine my life without. Thank you for being there for me and helping me make the wise decision.”
