

When Jessica walked through our doors she was scared and alone. “I knew there was no way my boyfriend would help support a baby and my parents were going to freak out. I didn’t know where else to turn.”

After the first she left with a confirmation of her pregnancy and a new determination. “After seeing the ultrasound of my precious baby I knew it didn’t matter what anyone else said. I was going through with this pregnancy. I still wasn’t sure I could raise the baby on my own, but I had months to figure that out. All I knew was that I couldn’t have an abortion - not after seeing that little heartbeat and watching him move around.”

With encouragement from our staff and a better understand of her options, Jessica sat down with her parents and talked things through. “I felt so much more prepared after talking to the counselor. I knew why I didn’t want to have an abortion and what my other options were. We even looked at some adoption information together.” She knows she still has a long road ahead of her, but she is optimistic, “I have a beautiful baby boy that I can’t imagine my life without. Thank you for being there for me and helping me make the wise decision.”

New Life & New Hope

for this Christmas

Thanks to you!

Your support is truly a gift from God! Thank you for everything you have done to bless us this year. Each volunteer and donor is an essential part of making it possible for us to reach out to hurting women when they need us the most.

Please consider an end of year gift and continue to keep us in your prayers throughout 2009.

For all of us here at PRC of Mercene,

Amy Slicker
